County President Daniel J. O'Neil of this city with his aides installed the officers of the two local divisions, the Taftville division and the division in Jewett City as follows:

Division No. 1, Norwich: President, Edward Sullivan; vice president, Patrick Murphy; treasurer, Mrs. J. O'Neil.

NORWICH GIRL VISITS

Seven students in the fine arts department of Connecticut college, including Miss Helen Peale of McKinley academy, are having an unusual treat during the Christmas vacation. Under the guidance of Prof. O. W. Sherer of the fine arts department, they are spending a week in Boston, visiting and sketching at the art museums. The girls assembled in Boston Thursday and are staying with Miss Sherer at Stewart Hall, Fenway. They will return to the college Tuesday night in time for the opening of the college Wednesday morning.

The objects which the girls are sketching include French and Italian illuminated manuscripts, Egyptian paintings on mummy cases, decorations on Greek vases, and Italian textiles, including brocades and laces of the 16th century.

The students who are making the trip are Helen Peale '22 of Norwich; Catherine Hill '22 of Norwich; Jane Denforth '22 of New London; Catherine Denforth '22 of New London; Margaret Heyer '22 of New London; Catherine Wilcox '22 of Durham; and Irene George of Carlisle, Pa., who is a student.

President B. T. Macphail attended the meetings of the administrative officers' association of the New England colleges at Boston Dec. 25 and 26. Prof. J. E. Wells attended the convention of the Modern Language association at Baltimore, December 28-30, and read a paper on Woodworth at one of the sectional meetings. Besse Bloom Wessel of the department of economics and sociology has been attending meetings of the American Sociological society and the American Economic association at Pittsburgh, December 29-31.

FIRE BETWEEN PARTITIONS AT AMERICAN HOUSE

A defective chimney very nearly spelled disaster for the American House on Shetucket street early Saturday evening. At 6:30 o'clock the fire department was called out by telephone for a bad fire between the partitions on the first, second and third floors in the immediate vicinity of the chimney.

When the main street chemical crew, chief and deputy chief who responded to the call, arrived upon the scene, the flames were beginning to spread and only by prompt and efficient work were the firemen able to prevent the flames from gaining any further headway.

A line of 2-1/2 inch hose was quickly run into the building and the stream of water together with the contents of the 40 gallon chemical tank on the main street auto soon had the flames squelched.

The chimney which caused the fire was so hot that it could not be touched with the bare hand. A good sized fire was burning in the furnace and the heat from this caused the chimney to get much too hot for the woodwork surrounding it.

It is understood that steps will be taken to have the defective chimney remedied. This is the second time in a month that the department has been called to the American House. The other call occurred for a similar fire on December 9th.

MANY CONTRIBUTIONS FOR FAMILY WELFARE

The following persons have contributed to the regular work of the family welfare department of the United Workers during the month of December:

Oscar Schander, Mrs. Robbins, Mrs. Charles Lefingwell, Mrs. David Gordon, Mrs. John Morrison, Mrs. John McWilliams, Mrs. Edward Brondier, Mrs. William A. Young, Miss Lena Fuller, Mrs. A. Thatcher Oils, Mrs. E. G. Aubrey, Mrs. Lucy Margaret Geer, Mrs. Julia J. Quinley, Miss Alice Plante, Mrs. Fredrick Lefingwell, Mrs. Charles Fiske, Mrs. A. M. Stockdale, Miss Florence Browning, Mrs. N. H. Lewis, Mrs. P. T. Sayles, Mrs. Tyler Olcott, Miss Kate Kent, Mrs. George Carroll, Mrs. E. S. Camp, Mrs. John Phillips, Comfort Circle, King's Daughters, Mrs. P. H. Bushnell, Mrs. F. H. Nurnberg.

Barry; recording secretary, Michael O'Connor; financial secretary, Henry McGill; treasurer, M. J. Malone. Division No. 2, Norwich: President, Edward McNery; vice president, George Driscoll; recording secretary, Michael Murphy; financial secretary, John McVeigh; treasurer, James Dutton. Division No. 1, Taftville: President, James Nevins; vice president, Terrence Hanlon; recording secretary, Daniel Connell; financial secretary, D. J. Murphy; treasurer, Thomas Fitzmaurice. Division No. 1, Jewett City: President, J. H. Hanrahan; vice president, Daniel Shea; recording secretary, J. McCarthy; treasurer, J. P. Sullivan.

Following the installation ceremonies, refreshments of sandwiches, cake and coffee were served, after which the meeting went into a social session. John Donnelly of Bristol, state president of the A. O. H., addressed the meeting in a very interesting manner on the aim and object of the order. The state president explained in detail the objects of the order, and put into operation to increase the membership of the order.

He was followed by Major E. T. Lyons of Hartford state treasurer for the past 20 years. Major Lyons is regarded as one of the best organizers of the order, and his address was along the line of organization. Major Lyons announced the formation of a state club to accompany the delegates of the order to Montreal in 1923 to the national convention. He said he expects that a number of New London county members will be enrolled in the club.

Rev. M. H. May, rector of St. Patrick's church, and Rev. William A. Keefe, rector of St. Mary's church, addressed the gathering on Ireland and Irish affairs. They assured the members they will aid them in every way possible to increase the membership of the A. O. H.

Other speakers included Timothy C. Murphy, Frank J. Martin, James J. Finnegan, Terrence Hanlon, John Hanrahan, Edward McNery, Mrs. Julia C. Brock, Mrs. Mary L. Siney and Judge James Twomey of Windham county.

The latter spoke on the activities of the order in Windham county.

During the afternoon there were vocal selections by Miss Mary Malone of Taftville, Mrs. Thomas Donovan and Edward T. Connelly, the latter having charge of the singing.

The committee in charge of the arrangements for the joint meeting consisted of Daniel J. O'Neil, Patrick Barry, Michael O'Connor, Edward McNery, Frank J. Martin, Mrs. Julia C. Brock, Mrs. Mary L. Siney, Mrs. J. G. O'Neil, Miss Marie Hart, Mrs. Delaney and Mrs. Bellows.

Mrs. J. G. O'Neil, past president of Division No. 54, Ladies' auxiliary, was presented a gold piece by Mrs. Julia C. Brock, Mrs. Mary McCarthy, Mrs. McGaffrey and Mrs. Jane Mowry.

FISHES, FOOLS AND THINKERS

MAKE UP WORLD, SAYS PRIEST

Sunday the feast of the circumlocution, commemorating Our Lord's admission to the law, his name day and the octave of the nativity, the epistle read in the Catholic churches was Titus 2:11-15, and the gospel Luke 2, 21. At the high mass in St. Patrick's church, Rev. Philip J. Mooney delivered a New Year sermon, beginning with the assertion that the world is composed of fishes, fools and thinkers.

Fishes eat an drink—and that is all. Fools have for their philosophy, "Eat and drink, for tomorrow you die." Thinkers eat and drink, but with this they live orderly lives, their logic 1, 2, 3—God, self and other things and in the order stated—not reversing their importance as do the fools making the things of this world, first, self, second and God last.

The preacher expressed the conviction that his listeners belonged to the class, nor of fishes or fools but of thinkers; hence "It would be logical for each, at the dawning of New Year, to review the year just ended, not to ponder his advancement, or failure during 1922, and having detected his defects, to make the firm resolution that the New Year shall be an improvement upon that which has gone before. Keeping this resolution depends upon conquering whatever may be one's besetting passion; and this can be accomplished by watchfulness, grace and prayer, through ways which the preacher pointed out.

He appealed to his hearers to take a spiritual inventory, discovering if they had failed in yielding to temptation, in omitting morning and evening prayer, in being negligent in attendance at divine worship, in carelessness in the matter of squaring their debts—large or small—parents, daughters; sons, were urged as to their conduct in the home, those who fall to study the truths conserved by the church so that they are unable to give the reasons for the faith that is in them were advised to do more systematic reading of informing books and papers; to Paul in the epistle for the Sunday to "live soberly and justly and godly in this world, looking for the blessed hope and coming of the glory of the great God and Our Saviour Jesus Christ. Who gave unto us of the old year were taken up with a religious service led by Rev. R. Daniel Trick, pastor of the church.

During the closing minutes of the year Rev. Mr. Trick gave a retrospect of the year 1922. He said the year 1922 was one of the most eventful years since the birth of Christ. The speaker touched on the political and scientific activities of the year and spoke of the conference on limitation of arms at Washington. The religious side of the year, twelve months was also touched upon by Rev. Mr. Trick.

On behalf of the rector, Father May, Father Galvin and himself, Father Mooney wished for his hearers a holy, happy and prosperous New Year.

As an interlude during this mass, organist Frank L. Farrell played his own beautiful arrangement of Holy Night. The offertory was the Nativity hymn, "Adeste Fideles, Mrs. Farrell having the opening soprano solo, others of the quartette taking up the melody, leading to the majestic ensemble of grand chorus, echoing through the Gothic arches of the superb church, a tone picture reproducing the momentous events of the first Christmas night "In the city of David, which is called Bethlehem." Through the season the reverent choir of this church has done excellent work, indicative of faithful rehearsal, earnestness of purpose and the skilled leadership of their director and instructor, Mr. Farrell. During the Credo Sunday, John P. Doyle had a very effective solo.

Following the mass, Benediction of the Blessed Sacrament was given by Rev. Myles P. Galvin.
